Puppy Playtime

Otis the cavoodle puppy was snapped mid-frolic while exploring the bush at Eddington. Owner Ali, whose parents run a local pet-friendly B&B, said she had noticed an increase in people bringing their dogs along for a break.

"Otis has grown up playing with dogs of all shapes and sizes that are here on holidays with their owners," she said.

"Today, dogs are part of the family. Many people wouldn't dream of going on holiday without them."

Happy Hogmanay

ORIGINALLY formed by Scottish squatters and businessmen in an attempt to recreate the New Year celebrations of their native home, the Maryborough Highland Gathering has kicked off the new year in style for more than 150 years.

The Gathering attracts people from all across the country – athletes, dancers, musicians, and those who just want to soak up the incredible atmosphere of piped bands and traditional Scottish culture.

The program has something for everyone. A piped band street parade, all-day athletics, highland dancing on two stages all day, Highland games and traditional strongmen event.

There's plenty to keep the kids entertained too, with games, sideshows and rides happening throughout the day.

The day concludes with a free evening concert and fireworks display – a great way to celebrate the new year.

Maryborough Trotting Track

The rodeo comes to town

THE Maryborough Harness Racing Club will play host to horses of a different kind when the M5Rodeo comes to the Carisbrook track in March.

Locals and visitors will get the chance to watch the finest cowboys/girls in action as they compete in roping events, barrel racing, bull riding and saddle bronc with some of Australia's best bucking stock on the circuit which is supplied by Garry McPhee.

Nicole McDonald's family has been involved in rodeos for more than 50 years. She said it is important that the family-run business (her children are third-generation riders) provides family-friendly entertainment – they want the general public to have an insight into their lifestyle.

"Our events are all about families; parents with young kids who want to let their hair down for the day," Nicole said.

"The gates open at 4 o'clock and we run a full junior program where they come in and see all of our kids competing. Then we have Free Cow-Kids Hour for them to have a swing of the ropes and jump on the bucking dummies. We can answer any questions they have, there is free face-painting and a free photo booth where kids can get a photo with 'NoisyBoy,' one of our pick-up horses which they will get to watch in action throughout the night. We want to make it an affordable day out for families."

As well as live music throughout the evening, budding cowboys and girls can try their luck on the mechanical bull. As Nicole explained, while locals can compete on live animals, it is not a sport for amateurs.

Nicole and Gene McDonald with their cow-kids

"Rodeo today has really moved into a professional sport which we take pride in," she said.

"People who travel the circuit practice every day for their events. Like anything, it costs a lot of money to be involved so people take it seriously.

"If local people want to compete, they should contact us and we can put them in touch with somebody close by who is involved in the sport so they can get an idea on what to expect before they turn up."

The rodeo events have become so popular that scammers have been selling fake tickets to the events. Nicole encourages people to only purchase tickets at the gate on the day or online at: www.m5rodeo.com.au

Destination bookshop

MARYBOROUGH'S Lions Club Bookshop, set in the main street of Maryborough, has become something of a drawcard for visitors to the area.

With its vast range of books, friendly, knowledgeable staff and central location, it is often the first port of call for tourists visiting the goldfields.

Lorraine Parker heads up the team of volunteers at the shop. She said staff are always keen to help shoppers, whether their query is about finding a new book to read or the best place to buy a cup of coffee.

"As well as our regular locals, we have many customers from around the state, interstate and overseas," Lorraine said.

"Our volunteers are a happy, welcoming group from the community who enjoy providing information about our region."

In the 10 years the shop has been operating, Lorraine said they have had thousands of books on their shelves. It has gained a reputation among readers, with everything from classics, crime, novels, autobiographies, history, gardening, children's, health, sport, craft, cookery, and theology, as well as DVDs, CDs, vinyl records and stamps.

"If customers are searching for a specific book our staff will do their utmost to find it for them; they are encouraged to leave their name and contact number just in case a copy of what they want comes in later," Lorraine said.

Books are displayed in category and alphabetical order of authors, and the store is wheelchair accessible. All funds raised in the shop are distributed back into the local community.

Something for everyone at the Lions Club Bookshop.

Living history

THE historic Worsley Cottage has undergone extensive renovation work throughout 2023, and will be open again to the public in February 2024.

Originally built in 1894 by Arthur Worsley as a family home, the stone building included the two front rooms and a kitchen at the rear of the house.

Arthur was one of the contractors for Maryborough's Main Drain and the stone was quarried locally. Another two rooms were added in the early years of the 20th century.

Arthur and his wife Agnes raised their family in the cottage, which was eventually sold in the 1930s and was home to a number of families before being purchased by the Midlands Historical Society in 1976 to use as their headquarters and museum.

Historical Society president Barb Nielsen said they are looking forward to welcoming visitors back to the cottage once volunteers have conserved and returned the furniture, objects and art work, as well as re-established the cottage gardens that were damaged throughout the renovation.

"Although the Cottage itself will remain closed until 2024, our Society volunteers have returned to work in the Research and Display Centre at the rear of the property at 3 Palmerston Street," Barb said. "Visitors will be welcome at the usual times: Tuesdays and Thursdays from 10am to 12 midday and Sunday afternoons from 2pm to 4pm."

Coffee and memories

RUSTORATION, Jenni Whittle's shop in Maryborough's High Street, reflects her passions — supporting her community and giving beautiful, once loved furniture, artwork and bric-a-brac a new lease of life.

"I love getting things out of landfill and not throwing stuff out," Jenni said.

"My philosophy is upcycled, recycled, vintage and collectables. People coming into my shop can expect anything older and random. I have everything from old tables that have been sandblasted back and repainted, to re-purposed suitcases made into dog beds on legs."

With fond childhood memories of spending time at her uncles' farm in Maldon, Jenni reminisces on a time when life was simpler and things were made to last.

Jenni Whittle

"Today is a throw-away world," Jenni said.

"It's cheaper to throw out a washing machine or TV than repair it. As kids we made do with what we had."

This philosophy is reflected in Jenni's shop, which also sells works by local artists made from upcycled metal work and timber. As well as bringing 'junk' back to life, it supports local artists as they work to rekindle the value of once-treasured items.

Jenni is excited that the next stage of her store will be open for summer, with an outdoor garden/seating area and coffee available.

"I see the shop as a 'hub' for people, whether they want to sell their art, buy something special or just drop in for a cuppa and a chat," she said.

"I love supporting people and I'm a true believer in what you put out you get back."

Shop local this Christmas

WHILE you are in Maryborough, why not do a spot of Christmas shopping? By shopping local, not only do you support local businesses, you might just win shopping or store vouchers to help you through the silly season.

From plants to perfume, clothes to car accessories – with more than 60 stores participating, there is a vast range of goods and services to choose from.

Be on the lookout for The Addy's Christmas promotion posters, fill in an entry form in store and you will go in the draw for your chance to win.

Boutique shopping

WHILE you are visiting the area, take time to explore Maryborough's retail precinct.

The magnificent architecture of the gold-rush era is home to many contemporary stores.

An easy stroll will take you past an eclectic array of shops selling everything from fashion to footwear, vintage and antique wares, music paraphernalia, homewares, camping gear and unique gift ideas.

The beautiful Phillips Gardens, with its established trees and ornamental lake, is centrally located in town and offers a welcome respite from the summer heat.

Or pop into the Bull and Mouth for a bite to eat, a cuppa or a glass of wine.

The Centre’s newly opened theatre allows visitors to immerse themselves in the story of the discovery of the Welcome Stranger, the famous gold nugget found in Bulldog Gully near Dunolly in 1869.

Visitors can gain new insights into the impact of the resulting gold rush on the lives, culture and Country of our area’s Traditional Owners – the Dja Dja Wurrung. The Worth its Weight in Gold installation, invites visitors to place items on the scales to find out their worth in today’s gold prices.

The retail space features souvenir and gift ideas from a range of local producers and artisans, and the friendly Visitor Centre staff love to share information, advice and their own experiences with visitors.

Central Goldfields Shire Mayor, Cr Leisbeth Long said the Visitor Centre was the ideal place for tourists to start their journey of adventure in the goldfields.

“Maryborough proudly welcomes its many visitors from across Victoria as well as from interstate and overseas. They are always awestruck by the historic Maryborough Railway Station along with other remarkable heritage buildings from the area’s wealthy goldrush history,” she said.

“There are markets, cool cafes that serve up sensational coffee, many fine restaurants to satisfy every taste, nature and gold prospecting opportunities across our wonderful shire. We invite you to come and chat with our friendly and informative team at the Visitors Centre for must-see sites if you only have a few days or simply take your time and experience some of the undiscovered riches for yourself at leisure.”

Off and racing

THE Maryborough Harness Racing Club is renowned for its regular race meetings and annual Gold Cup and Redwood Carnival.

Now with new management and a new committee, the club hopes to become a venue of choice for a variety of events and festivals throughout the region.

General manager, Jackson Barby (pictured), hopes to build on the success of the recent racing season, with increased prize money, fashion on the field and a sold-out dinner dance.

"We've developed a strategic plan which is a bold and progressive vision for the next three years at the club. Included in that are some initiatives which we're hoping attracts different audiences," he said.

While harness racing will remain the core focus, with its spacious function rooms, fully equipped kitchen and bar facilities, the club is able to cater for other events, such as the upcoming rodeo, Chopped, Weekend with Hooks or private events such as weddings and birthdays.

A taste of decadence

THE team at Whisky June continue to offer locals and visitors to the region the best in luxury with a touch of decadence in the goldfields.

Both of Whisky June's accommodation options – Gilbert and his slightly-naughty sister Ruby – have proved a hit with guests. Centrally located, the homes invite guests to experience the glamour and decadence of the gold rush days in contemporary style.

Just a short walk from both homes is Whisky June's Station Cafe. The cafe has quickly cemented its reputation as a destination restaurant, with breakfast, lunch and dinner (on Friday and Saturday nights), as well as special pop-up live-music events throughout the month.

Whisky June's dining offering has moved up another notch with the opening of the grand Chandelier Room. The luxurious private dining room in the former Station Master Lounge offers exclusive dining for up to 25 guests with various menu options from head chef Chris MacGregor.

On select Sunday afternoons high tea is served, including delicious house made pastries, petits-fours and sandwiches, as well as a selection of teas served in elegant gold teapots and a glass of bubbles.

Keep an eye on the Whisky June website for the Chandelier Room's Degustation Dining dates. The Saturday evening dining experience includes a multiple-course, specially curated culinary journey featuring local produce and suppliers, with optional matching wines.

Travelling with your dog

The Station Café platform is popular with dog owners

It is estimated that 20 percent of travellers include their dog in their holiday plans.

Many venues throughout the goldfields welcome well-mannered pups (and their owners). If planning to travel to the region with your four-legged best friend, do a little research beforehand to ensure your trip is smooth sailing.

The RSPCA have put together a handy guide for travelling with pets. Some tips include:

- Take your dog to the vet for a health check-up and update immunisations and treatments. Book them in for a professional grooming session.
- Pack a suitcase for your pet, including a leash, toys, food, medications, treats, water, and bedding.
- Always carry extra bottles of water to keep your pet hydrated.
- Bring treats with you to keep your pet satisfied and distracted.
- Pack your pet's favourite toy as it will help them to relax.
- Never leave your pet unattended in the car.

Picnic with your pooch at Summerfield Winery

Dog walking in the goldfields

One of the joys of owning a dog is regular walks around the local area. In the central goldfields we are lucky to have many beautiful walking options for you and your pooch.

Following are just a few places to explore:

Lake Victoria

The walking track at popular Princes Park meanders around the scenic lake. It is an easy 1.3-kilometre circuit.

The Goldfields Reservoir

Wander through 1.7 kilometres of stunning wattle, box-ironbark and surrounding forest. This tranquil walk showcases birdlife and animals in their natural habitat. Dogs (on lead) are welcome to join their owners on the Saturday morning Goldfields Reservoir parkrun.

Maryborough off-leash dog park

The five-acre park is located between Jack Pascoe Reserve and Maryborough Netball Association courts in Carrick Street in Maryborough.

Maryborough Velodrome

Popular with locals, the town's unofficial dog park can be found just outside of Maryborough on the Avoca Road. Be aware of snakes throughout the warmer months and please clean up after your pooch with the bags provided.

Travelling with your dog

State Forests*

The State of Victoria Department of Environment, Land, Water and Planning states: "Dogs are allowed in state forest but must be under direct control at all times and are expected to be on a leash in picnic and camping areas or when near other visitors."

If walking your dog off-lead in the surrounding bush, please be aware of their impact on the native wildlife. Also be aware of dangers to your dog, such as hidden mineshafts and snakes. Take extra care on windy days; forests are closed on Code Red Fire Danger Rating days.

The central goldfields region can get extremely hot during summer. Please don't walk your dog in the middle of the day and, if walking on roads and footpaths, check the temperature with the back of your hand. If it is too hot for you, it is too hot for your dog.

Dogs are not permitted in Paddy's Ranges State Park*

Play in the Pyrenees

THE Pyrenees – one of Australia's great wine regions – is being discovered by more visitors every year.

The region's wineries are celebrating summer and the outdoor lifestyle with a series of music and art events. Taltarni has musicians performing on decks overlooking vineyards and among the hills of Glenpatrick, Mrs Bakers Distillery will host gin sipping and watercolour botanical painting using the gin botanicals as inspirations.

Another great adventure in the Pyrenees is Beaufort by Twilight. On December 15 the picturesque town will transform into a sprawling twilight wonderland with circus performers, kids' entertainment, roving music, Christmas carols, markets and more.

Or pack a picnic and enjoy the outdoors and incredible scenery in the Pyrenees. Unfurl your rug by the banks of the Avoca River; sit in the shade at the Avoca Chinese Gardens; lunch under an ancient elm beside the tranquil waters of Beaufort Lake or discover the Ferntree Waterfalls and picnic ground.
